Open Access Publishing Workflow

All articles submitted to Cambridge University Press undergo the same rigorous peer-review to sustain the high quality of our journals.

The decision to publish an article is not affected by whether it will be published Open or behind a paywall.

Third Party Transaction Process

We work with Rightslink[®]-CCC to process article processing charges (APCs).

Institutions and authors participating in Read and Publish deals benefit from Rightslink's tool, OA Agreement Manager, which has been purpose-built to facilitate smoother financial transactions for authors and administrators.

This allows us to identify authors who are eligible for an APC discount/waiver and automatically apply a discount, meaning a 'touch free' journey for the author.

Institutions may also review and authorise APC funding requests.

Manuscript preparation

Author:

- Discovers journal
- Visits journal information page
- Reviews author instructions
- Formats manuscript

Manuscript preparation

Information on manuscript preparation is available on Cambridge Core, via the journal landing page.

Wherever possible, we remind authors to check their eligibility for APC waivers and discounts.

Detailed information for contributors is available within the journal information pages, including Open Access publishing options available in that journal.

Pop ups appear on relevant gold OA and hybrid journal information pages to invite authors to check their eligibility for an APC waiver / discount.

Manuscript submission

During submission, the definition and responsibilities of the corresponding author are clearly stated.

Corresponding Author

Please read carefully. The Corresponding Author is defined as: the person who handles the manuscript and correspondence during the publication process. The Corresponding Author has the authority to act on behalf of all co-authors in all matters pertaining to publication of the manuscript including supplementary material. The Corresponding Author is responsible for obtaining such agreements and for informing the co-authors of the manuscript's status throughout the submission, review, and publication process. In addition, the Corresponding Author also acts as the point of contact for any enquiries after the paper is published.

The Corresponding Author's specific responsibilities include:

- Manuscript correction and proof reading. Handling the revisions and re-submission of revised manuscripts up to the acceptance of the manuscripts.
- Arranging for payment of an Article Processing Charge (APC) where one is required. The affiliation of the Corresponding Author is used to determine eligibility for discounted or waived APCs under Read and Publish agreements.
- Arranging for the signing of the Author Publishing Agreement by the copyright owner (this might be the Corresponding Author themselves).
- Act on behalf of all co-authors in responding to queries from all sources post-publication, including questions relating to publishing ethics, reuse of content, or the availability of data, materials, resources, etc.

Manuscript submission

Following submission, the author's manuscript enters the peer review process.

For hybrid journals, authors are not able to select Gold OA at this stage.*

Current process for majority of journals as of now:

Completion of the OA author publishing agreement (APA) indicates that the article to be published OA.

Once an article is accepted, a record will be created Cambridge's production tracking system.

RE: <<JOURNAL NAME>> - Decision on <<MANUSCRIPT NAME>>

Dear <<AUTHOR NAME>>,

We're delighted to confirm that your manuscript entitled "ARTICLE NAME" has been accepted for publication in <<JOURNAL NAME>> in its current form.

If you have not yet done so, please complete and return the Author Publishing Agreement (APA) as soon as possible: <<LINK>>.

As <<JOURNAL>> also offers Open Access (OA), you can now decide whether you would like to publish your article as OA. Publishing OA allows anyone, anywhere to find, read, and benefit from your research which will give you increased visibility, greater accessibility, and global impact. To help you decide, you can find out more about publishing OA on our information page. If you choose to publish OA, please ensure you select the appropriate form when completing the APA.

Publishing Open Access requires payment of an article processing charge \(APC\), collected by our partner, CCC-Rightslink. However, to support OA publishing, we also offer a variety of waivers and discounts which means you may not have to pay an APC. To check your eligibility, please visit our waivers and discounts information page.

To find out more information about what will happen next, things you need to know, and a variety of resources to help you during the process, please visit our publishing an accepted paper information page.

You'll now be assigned a dedicated Content Manager, who you will hear from shortly.

Congratulations and thank you once again for your contribution to <<JOURNAL NAME>>.

Kind regards,
Editorial office

The acceptance email links to the journal information page, where authors can select the appropriate form.

This is the key decision point for the author to make their article OA.

Hybrid journal - author publishing agreement page

Author publishing agreement

Before Cambridge University Press can publish a journal article (or any other journal content type) we need a signed licence to publish. To find the right form, start by considering whether or not your article will be published as open access or non-open access and then select the most appropriate option.

Non-Open Access Articles

So that we have the necessary rights to publish your article, we ask you to grant an exclusive licence to publish. (We do not ask you to transfer your copyright to us.) An exclusive licence means that the rights needed to publish the article are granted to the journal owner on exclusive basis and the ownership of the copyright remains unchanged. Select the correct form from the choice of three:

Who are you and who owns the copyright?	Correct Forms	Who Signs?
I am the sole author and I own the copyright in the article OR I am one of two or more authors and we jointly own the copyright in the article		One author
I am the sole author and my non-government employer owns the copyright in the article OR I am one of two or more authors and one or more of our non-government employers jointly own the copyright in the article		Each author and each employer
I am the sole author and my government employer owns the copyright in the article OR I am one of two or more authors and one or more of our government employers jointly own the copyright in the article		Each author and each employer

Open Access Articles

So that we have the necessary rights to publish your article, we ask you to grant a non-exclusive licence to publish. (We do not ask you to transfer your copyright to us.) A non-exclusive licence means that the rights needed to publish the paper are granted to the journal owner on a non-exclusive basis and the ownership of the copyright remains unchanged. Select the correct form from the choice of two in the table below.

In open access there is a fundamental principle that content should not only be accessible but also be freely reusable for the good of research and humanity. We comply with this principle by asking you to select, within your form, a Creative Commons licence. The CC licence you choose will determine how readers can use your article.

Who are you and who owns the copyright?	Correct Forms	Who Signs?
I am the sole author and I own the copyright in the article OR I am one of two or more authors and we jointly own the copyright in the article		One author
I am the sole author and my employer (government or non-government) owns the copyright in the article OR I am one of two or more authors and one or more of our employers (government or non-government) jointly own the copyright in the article		Each author and each employer

Retroactive OA Outreach

Authors who do not select the OA option and are identified as eligible under a R&P deal are informed of the opportunity via email. A simple online form allow authors to select their creative commons licence. This form functions as an addendum to any existing author publishing agreement.

 CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS

Publish your article Open Access

Through your institution's Read and Publish agreement with Cambridge University Press, you are eligible to make your article Open Access (OA) at no cost to you.

If you have not yet returned an author publishing agreement / licence to publish form, please go to your journal information page and select the appropriate OA form.

If you have completed and returned an author publishing agreement / licence to publish form, simply select the Creative Commons licence under which you would like your article to be published using the form below. This will instruct Cambridge University Press to make your article in journal name available via Open Access.

Once completed, this will function as an addendum to the original author publishing agreement for your article ('Article title', 10.1017/9895) to the extent of updating the publishing format referenced in that agreement. All other terms of your original author publishing agreement, including warranties, will remain unchanged and in force.

If you have any questions about creative commons licences, please email OAqueries@cambridge.org.

If you DO NOT WISH for your article to be published Open Access, do not complete and submit this form. Your article will continue to be published on the basis and in the format described in your original author publishing agreement.

Convert your article to Open Access

Dear Author Name,

This message is regarding your article, 'Article Name', in Journal Name. Through your affiliation with Institution Name and its publishing agreement with Cambridge University Press, you are eligible to make your article Open Access (OA) at no cost to you.

So that you don't miss out, we've made it easy for you to take advantage of this opportunity:

Simply select a creative commons licence by completing this online form.

As the corresponding author, you must have full authority to execute this form on behalf of any co-authors. If you do not complete this form, we will not take any action to convert your article to OA.

If you have any questions, please read our FAQs or email OAqueries@cambridge.org.

Why publish Open Access?

Publishing OA allows anyone, anywhere to find, read, and benefit from your research. OA articles:

- are downloaded three times more than non-OA articles, on average
- receive 30-50% more citations
- are freely available online globally

You can find out more on our Publishing OA information page.

Manuscript decision – Process changes

We are replacing our current licensing process with an improved digital licensing solution that will allow us to significantly improve author experience and our ability to channel authors to select the gold OA publishing option in hybrid journals, using specific messaging relating to Read and Publish.

Ironclad is a digital, end-to-end contract lifecycle management platform that covers contract creation, signature and archiving.

The first phase of this launch (early November 2020) will see 18 journals added to the workflow, followed by 4 weeks of hypercare, and then the on-boarding of our remaining Cambridge-owned titles.

Solutions for proprietor and jointly-owned titles will be resolved in Phase Two after the on-boarding of our remaining Cambridge-owned titles.

Manuscript decision – Process changes

If an article is accepted, following the completion of any revisions required, authors will receive an acceptance email.

Once an article is accepted, a record will be created in Cambridge's production tracking system.

<<JOURNAL NAME>> - Decision on <<MANUSCRIPT NAME>>

Dear <<AUTHOR NAME>>,

We're delighted to confirm that your manuscript entitled "ARTICLE NAME" has been accepted for publication in <<JOURNAL NAME>> in its current form.

You will shortly hear from our digital licensing partner, Ironclad, in order to complete your licensing agreement for publishing this article. Please ensure you check all email folders, including your junk and spam folders, for this email.

As <<JOURNAL>> also offers Open Access (OA), you can now decide whether you would like to publish your article as OA. Publishing OA allows anyone, anywhere to find, read, and benefit from your research which will give you increased visibility, greater accessibility, and global impact. To help you decide, you can find out more about publishing OA on our information page. If you choose to publish OA, please ensure you select the appropriate form when completing the APA.

Publishing Open Access requires payment of an article processing charge \(APC\), collected by our partner, CCC-Rightslink. However, to support OA publishing, we also offer a variety of waivers and discounts which means you may not have to pay an APC. To check your eligibility, please visit our waivers and discounts information page.

To find out more information about what will happen next, things you need to know, and a variety of resources to help you during the process, please visit our publishing an accepted paper information page.

You'll now be assigned a dedicated Content Manager, who you will hear from shortly.

Congratulations and thank you once again for your contribution to <<JOURNAL NAME>>.

Kind regards,
Editorial office

Manuscript decision – Process changes

Authors will then receive an email from our digital licensing partner, Ironclad, to gather information for their licensing agreement via an online form.

Messaging within the form is tailored for articles flagged as eligible under a R&P deal, depending on:

- Corresponding author's institution
- Funding body country
- Article content type (i.e. review article vs research article)

Messaging for hybrid journals (R&P):

Access Information

Please select your preferred access type*

Your institution and Cambridge University Press have signed a read and publish agreement which covers the article processing charge (APC) relating to your article. This means you can publish your article Gold Open Access at no cost to you, and your research will benefit from a considerably wider readership.

- Gold Open Access
- Subscription

Creative Commons License

Please confirm the Creative Commons licence under which the article should be published for Gold Open Access.

- CC BY (Attribution)
- CC BY NC SA (Attribution - NonCommercial - ShareAlike)
- CC BY NC ND (Attribution - NonCommercial - NoDerivatives)

Manuscript decision – Process changes

Articles not flagged as eligible under a R&P a deal will receive different messaging.

The Gold Open Access option is pre-selected for hybrid journals.

Messaging for hybrid journals:

Access Information

Please select your preferred access type*

Gold Open Access means that, on publication, the article will be made freely available for anyone to access and view under a Creative Commons licence. Please note that Gold Open Access publication may require payment of an APC by you (the author/s), your funding body, or your institution. This payment will be coordinated by our partner, CCC-Rightslink, following signature of the contract during which time you may apply discounts and waivers to the full APC.
