

Breakout Rooms are now available in MS Teams

From now on, you as a meeting organizer, have the option to provide breakout rooms for the participants in your meeting.

Breakout rooms allow you to divide your meeting into smaller groups for brainstorming sessions or discussions in working groups. Organizers can simply jump back and forth between the breakout rooms, make announcements in all rooms at the same time and bring everyone back to the main meeting at any time. All functions, such as Meeting files, whiteboards, recordings and transcripts are available for the organizer.
